ANY WHISKEY IN MARKET,

LOCAL MATTER.

E. C. WOODSON, City Editor

Correspondents will please write on one side of the paper.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Robbins are plentiful in this section. Three-card monte has put in an appearance here.

Alcott, the Grocer, is to have a coffee roaster to run by dog power.

Long needed repairs on pumps in various portions of the city are being made.

The oldest record now in the archives of the State dates back to 1694.

The frame of the new warehouse at the North Carolina Railroad depot has been raised.

There is an old tombstone in the City Cemetery which makes the deceased die about 10 years before he was born.

Col. John Hinsdale, of Fayetteville, and Captain Roger P. Atkinson, of Greensboro, were in the city on yesterday.

We regret to learn that Dr. H. J. Menninger has been called to New York on account of the extreme illness of his mother.

Boston, the old colored man who was hurt a few days ago in the runaway smash up on Hillsboro, has recovered from his injuries.

There is a letter in the post-office of this city addressed to W. A. Coggins, Pendleton P. O., S. C., which is held for lack of proper postage.

Remember the lecture of Carswell, the Canada humorist, comes off at Metropolitan Hall this evening. Twenty-five cents is the admission fee.

The revival at the Salisbury Street Baptist church progresses most favorably. The number of inquirers is large and continually increasing.

We understand that the Board of Commissioners will discuss the matter of the proposed new Court-house at their meeting in this city on the 3d.

There is a man in our town, whose nose so very big is, "Would take a month twelve inches round To tell him where his wig is. Guess who?"

Two kerosene lamps exploded in Smithfield on Monday during the performance of some tableaux. Fortunately no damage to life or property was done.

Mr. P. Lamson was the successful man in the raffle for a beautiful rosewood wardrobe on Tuesday evening at the store of W. H. Jones & Co. Forty-one was the highest throw.

We are pleased to learn that Major R. G. Hay, the popular and efficient General Agent of the Security Life Insurance and Annuity Company of New York has secured an office in this city and will make his headquarters here.

Surely somebody has the authority to keep white and colored urchins from the delicate sport of throwing stones at one another. Many severe injuries have been inflicted by the dangerous pastime.

Unsuspected persons are constantly liable to be struck. Put a few of them in the guard-house. That will stop it.

The first tramway used in this State for any length of time, ran down Newbern Avenue, across the present Kingsland property to the old quarry. Years ago vestiges of it remained. There is nothing of it now, save in the furrows of the graves of those who operated the old wooden railroad years ago.

The present showers are the outskirts of the great equinoctial storm which annually rages on the North Atlantic. Dry weather follows, until the lof season in May, when the tobacco planters put out their new plants on a thousand hills, like a gardener does his tender cabbage sprouts. So much for the Clerk of the weather.

Prof. York's LECTURE.—We regret that Prof. York last evening at Metropolitan Hall on "Education the Nation's Hope" was heard by so few.

Prof. York is a ripe scholar and handled his subject in a masterly manner. The slim attendance had been expected for the culture and literary taste of our citizens.

BOTTOM DOG ON TOP AGAIN.—By reference to last night's telegrams it will be seen that C. L. Harris has crawled on top in the fight over the Collectorship for this district. Cebe's nomination has been confirmed and the State has adjourned sine die.

JOHNSTON SUPERIOR COURT.—We returned from Smithfield last night, but too late to get in a full report of the doings in and around that "busy" charming Court week in this issue. The Court is still in session and it is the Grand Jury consider one-half of the disorders that have been committed in the county since the commencement of the week, the State docket will not be completed before 12 o'clock Saturday night of the second week, as our detailed report of to-morrow will show.

Judge Alberson, we are glad to say, is giving general satisfaction to all except evil doers, and upon these he is particularly severe. Sent three to the Penitentiary yesterday. Look out, ye Wake Counties that are represented on the State docket, a whirlwind is coming.

APPOINTED.—Mark Alexander, Jr., has been appointed Commissioner of Deeds for North Carolina, resident in Baltimore.

HENDERSON BIDS FOR THE FAIR.

LETTER FROM COL. S. S. COOPER, PRESIDENT, &c.,—We publish below a letter from Col. S. S. Cooper, President of the Central Agricultural Society, which speaks for itself.

Messrs. Stone & Uzzell:

GENTLEMEN: I see that there is a probability of the State Fair being held at some other point in the State than Raleigh. I think it should be held at Raleigh in preference to all other places. Will the business men allow it to leave? The amount they subscribe is money loaned at a hundred per cent. Should I leave Raleigh, however, I think Henderson is the most suitable place for it, since it is a more central locality than Goldsboro or Charlotte, and we will raise the amount requisite to wit, ten thousand dollars. We have splendid Fair Grounds, very well improved, with nearly a mile track, not inferior to any in the South. Our buildings are new and commodious.

Very Respectfully,
S. S. COOPER,
President of the Central Agricultural Fair, Henderson, N. C.
March 24th, 1873.

GOLD MINES OF THE STATE.—The gold mines of this State, which were once so highly estimated, and underwent so sudden a decay during the California excitement, are again drawing attention.

The sulphates in the ore were for a long time considered most objectionable. We believe that experience has proven that all endeavors to remove the sulphates have resulted in the precipitation of such quantities of iron with the precious metals, as to render the apparently most simplest process greatly more intricate. But that is not what we have to say. Our mines are again attracting attention. The journals published in the auriferous regions are just in their dealings with the owners, we know, but not quite enough. We are ready to aid them in driving speculators from the market, and in establishing an industry for the future. Let us all put our shoulders to the golden wheel, and the old North Carolina out of the straggle bog in which she has been wandering for 100 years this morning.

A NEEDED INNOVATION.—We hope that the new Postmaster in making his improvements, will see to it that the present outfit for transporting the mails, as well as the agents, to and fro, between the office and depot, is gotten up in a better style than the present dray with a starving steed and slow movements, which takes from a quarter to half an hour to put in appearance at the post office from the depot after the moment when the train arrives. We have no choice as to who may be put in.

Time saved in the delivery of the mails is money to our business citizens; and the large number who sometimes congregate and await the opening of the same, are not waiting on the efficient corps of clerks inside, but on that time lost, which lack of oats and lots of mud have caused through the shabby, speedless Rousenaut that now walks from the depot to the office.

PAYING THE STREETS.—The many improvements going on in our city suggest that dirt, with mortar, alias mud—good Heavens preserve the Spring pants of serenading swains—that a little fir, mingled with the other ingredients makes a durable sidewalk; and further that the great geologists have furnished us in abundance with another material, even more durable than Egyptian straw and brick, for macadamizing purposes; and further that it might be a saving to use more stone and less dirt on the streets of Raleigh, where that article of commerce is already so plentiful. Economy and durability however, should be the two guiding stars in this improvement. We think that we speak the desires of our people, that it may be done; but to give a job to any one and have a swindle on the city? why, not for Joseph if he knows it!

ESCAPED JAIL.—Tuesday about 12 m., Ben Jones made good his escape from the jail in this city. At the time of the escape, Ben was doing police duty in the kitchen yard, when, by some means, he managed to give the jailer the slip, and up to the present time, has not been recaptured. Ben was incarcerated about a month ago on the charge of stealing some harness from Dunn's Livery Stable. This is the fifth escape in the past few months, and it really seems that gross negligence can be with propriety charged upon the colored jailer, Turner Evans. These repeated escapes should be investigated and steps taken to put a stop to them. Sheriff Lee has been absent some weeks, and we hope when he returns he will look into the matter.

THE RALEIGH PRINTERS.—Gov. Holden, printer, is Postmaster at Raleigh. John N. Bunting, printer, is Judge of Wake County Probate Court. W. W. White, printer, is County Register of Deeds. W. M. Brown, printer, is County Treasurer. John B. Neathery, printer, is Private Secretary to Gov. Caldwell. John Nichols, printer, is Principal of the State Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind. John C. Gorman, printer, is a Representative in the Legislature from County and Adjutant General of the State. Wesley Whitaker, printer, is Mayor of Raleigh and President of the Board of Directors of the State Insane Asylum.

READ THIS.—Messrs. Ramsey & Co., have just received a fine line of Hats, Silk Umbrellas, Hair Brushes and Spring Collars, also a fine line of Silk Scarfs, Neck-ties and Bows, which they are selling cheap.

WELL MERITED.—At the late commencement of the Louisville Medical College, honorary degree of M. D. was conferred on Drs. K. J. Foushee and E. H. Ward, of Chatham county.

The Committee appointed at the last meeting in reference to the obstruction of Morgan street, submitted a lengthy report and proposed that the street be extended to Boylan street.

The Tax Collector stated that according to a decision of the Supreme Court no credits were to be taxed, and asked permission to refund such taxes as had already been collected.

The following gentlemen were appointed to assess the damages of the extension of Morgan street: Messrs. D. L. Royster, Thomas Jenkins, Thomas Briggs, H. C. Jones and Oscar Alston. On motion of Mr. Battle, the Assessors were directed not to act until the bridge is finished.

The question of widening Peace street was next discussed.

On motion of Mr. Battle the fences on the property of Messrs. N. S. Harp and R. K. Ferrell, were directed to be moved back. Messrs. D. L. Royster, S. Jenkins, G. T. Stronach, Hardy Lockhart and R. H. Battle, Jr., were chosen Assessors to assess the damages.

On motion of Mr. Prairie, a Committee was appointed to consider damages to certain property-holders in the opening of Swain street. Messrs. Prairie, Battle and Gorman were appointed as said Committee.

On motion of Commissioner Stronach, a Committee of three were appointed to take into consideration the extension of Blount street. The chair appointed Messrs. Stronach, Ellison and Johnson, as said Committee.

On motion of Mr. Prairie, Dr. W. J. Hawkins, President of the R. & G. R. R., was ordered to grade West street where it is intersected by Lane street.

On motion of Mr. Prairie, the matter of refunding taxes collected on credits, was referred to the City Attorney, requesting that officer to submit a report thereon at the next meeting of the Board.

Mr. Battle moved to appoint a committee of three to see that the recent order of the Board in reference to repairs by the N. C. R. R. and R. & G. R. R. Companies be carried out. The committee was appointed, and Messrs. Battle, Johnson and Prairie were appointed by the chair.

The list of delinquent city tax-payers was read by the clerk. The Tax Collector was ordered to proceed to sell the town lots of the delinquents according to law.

The clerk read a statement of the expenses of the city for the present month, which, in the aggregate, amounts to $2,077.06.

On motion of Mr. Gorman, the accounts were allowed.

The resignation of Joseph Watson, as Captain of the Night Watch, was read and accepted.

On motion of Mr. Prairie, the Mayor was authorized to fill the vacancy.

On motion of Mr. Gorman, the Mayor was authorized to fill the vacancy in the night police caused by the resignation of Robert Wyche.

Several petitions in reference to various matters were read but no action taken on them.

Ellison, col., stated that several members of the police force were complained of by citizens of both colors for continuing drunkenness. He desired to see a stop put to this thing.

There were plenty of good men who would be glad to get the place, and would discharge their duty faithfully, &c.

Mr. Prairie moved the appointment of a committee of three to take into consideration the propriety of procuring another house for the accommodation of the Hook and Ladder truck.

The motion was put to a vote and carried. The chair appointed as said committee Messrs. Prairie, Gorman and Stronach.

On motion the Board adjourned to meet on Monday evening.

MURDER.—As we left Selma yesterday evening, Coroner Rose, of Johnston county, was holding an inquest over the body of an infant supposed to have been killed by its mother. From information received from the principal witness, a verdict of murder will be rendered. Full particulars to-morrow.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.—Dr. L. W. Martin, Representative from Carteret in 1870, Col. J. H. Griffin of Baltimore and W. K. Barham, of Louisville, arrived in the city last evening by the Goldsboro train.

(For the Raleigh News.)

An agricultural meeting was held at Selma, Johnston county, N. C., on Saturday, March 23d, 1873, for the purpose of taking initiatory steps to organize an Agricultural Society.

On motion of A. M. Noble, the meeting was organized by calling E. S. Moore, Esq., to the chair and requesting John G. Scarborough to act as Secretary.

On motion of Colonel W. H. Aver, a committee of three was appointed on permanent organization. The chair appointed on that committee, W. H. Aver, A. M. Noble and D. S. Turner.

On motion of A. M. Noble, the chairman of this meeting, with four others, were appointed a committee to solicit names for membership. The committee was appointed as follows: E. S. Moore, Dr. J. W. Vick, John C. Scarborough, S. H. Hood and John A. Underhill.

On motion of Colonel Aver, agreed to meet in Selma, on Saturday, April 5th, 1873, at 3 o'clock, P. M., for permanent organization.

On motion of Colonel Aver, the Secretary was requested to furnish a copy of the proceedings of this meeting to the Sentinel and News of Raleigh, with a request to publish.

Railroad Accident Near Joyner's.

WELDON, N. C., March 26.

At five o'clock this morning, a train from Wilmington ran over a broken rail one mile north of Joyner's. The engine, baggage and express cars passed safely; the first and second-class cars turned over in the swamp; the sleeping car remained on the track. Stoves were upset and fire scattered.

Capt. Joe Howell with great presence of mind extinguished the fire. Some of the passengers were slightly bruised.

Capt. Howell was bruised—the passengers in the sleeping car were undisturbed. The balance of the train came on and made connection.

Antonio Zambrana, a member of the Cuban Congress, has arrived here and reports the insurgents as having an abundance of arms and in good spirits. They are making steady progress in the Eastern Department, and will very soon compel the Spaniards to wholly withdraw from the Department.

Zambrana, secretly left the island in an open boat.

Bridget McShane was found dead in a tenement house on Friday on Seamen street. It proves that she was murdered by another woman named McNetel, in a brutal drunken brawl by the latter, fracturing the former's skull with a bottle.

A child was burned to death in the same tenement house on the same night.

It has not been definitely decided to send Train to an asylum. He said yesterday that he should quietly submit if the outrage was attempted, trusting to the people to right the wrong. He added, "Let them do their worst, George Francis Train will still live."

Says the Wilmington Journal of the 25th inst.: "The Rev. Mr. Gross, appointed by the Pope as Bishop of Savannah, as announced in Sunday's telegraph, is the Rev. Wm. Gross, of Boston, elder brother to Rev. Mark S. Gross, of St. Thomas' Church, in this city. The first named gentleman was on a visit to this city a few weeks ago."

[Correspondence Daily News, In and Around Greensboro, N. C. GREENSBORO, March 26, 1873.]

The business men here at last see the importance of making Greensboro a tobacco market, and have taken steps to that end. The eyes of the blind are being opened at this late day. They formed a tobacco trade association last year, but paid little attention to its advancement. Within the last two weeks, however, they have been working zealously for the growth of the association, and the result is that tobacco sales are remarkably good, and reported on the increase daily. Taking into consideration the course they propose pursuing, the coming season we will have one of the best, if not the best tobacco market in the State, and rival any other market outside the State.

A colored citizen called at one of our printing offices Monday, and the printerman what he would charge to print one hymn book. This reminds me of an instance some years ago. A man—f I should use the term—wanted one Bible printed with side notes, "because he couldn't get one to suit him." All the books are not dead yet. Perhaps the Folio-killer over at Milton had better give us a visit.

William Isley, the young man who got his arm broken by the stumbling of his horse while on his way to the racing grounds on last Monday a. m., died Sunday night last, aged about twenty-one—the boom of manhood. His arm and shoulder on the left side mortified and turned black a few days after the accident. In addition to breaking his arm in several places, he received internal injuries which it is said caused his early death.

Rev. Mr. Bliss, a universalist preacher, who has been spending a part of the winter here for his health, died Sunday morning, leaving a wife and young girl to deplore his loss. His family left this place Monday with his remains for their home in Vermont, where he will be buried.

An old colored woman also died Sunday evening. The cold hand of death has visited our city and removed five of our number in one week. There are three others reported lying on the verge of the grave.

A lodge of Good Templars were organized at Gibsonville last Saturday with twenty-four charter members. The temperature cause is on the increase, and it is hoped this day is not far distant when every village will have a society.

The proprietor of the Benbow House was heightened Tuesday night out of his wits. The spot in one of the flues caught fire and caused this little uncleanliness in the Doctor, and drew together a small crowd, who, no doubt, were expecting a conflagration equalled to that of Chicago, but they were disappointed. No damage done.

We have had very bad weather the past week, and from present indications we are in for more of it.

The Rev. Dr. Hessel, the victim of a police blunder in the matter of the great Cornish street murder, was presented with $1,250 in gold and a handsome silver cup on the 19th instant, at the German Consulate in London, as a mark of public sympathy with himself and his wife. In accepting the gift, Dr. Hessel asked permission to send 1,000 flowers and the silver cup to his aged father in Germany, who has been entirely prostrate by the intelligence of his son's arrest on a charge of murder.

It is stated that Joe Smith, son of the anti-polygamy Mormon institution at Kirkland, Ohio, the old stamping ground of the sect,

The New York World is responsible for this tale out of the Arabian Nights. Three centuries ago William Barentz, a German, discovered Spitzbergen, and landed upon its rocky, ice-bound coast. Here he erected huts, gathered his crew about him, and fought for life through the rigors of an arctic winter. At the first opportunity in the spring he returned, and never again braved the far North. Three hundred years later, Captain Carlsen landed by chance on Spitzbergen. He brings home a strange tale. As he reached the shore the old encampment of Barentz appeared to him like a vision. The huts were still there, just as Myhrer had left them. In the rude hearth lay the relics of the utterly dead and long extinguished fire. Upon a shelf were books from the old Dutchman's library—a work on navigation, the latest edition published before he had sailed, and a history of China translated into Dutch. Jugs and dishes, when food of the adventurers were scattered here and there, and even a pair of shoes were found which had belonged to a little cabin boy, who, as the records had died upon the voyage. There were also quaint engravings, and a curious mathematical instrument, intended to assist in obtaining longitude. All these articles were carefully collected, and were brought to Europe on Carlsen's return.

A SAD CASE. A lady who acted as pianist in a saloon recently pulled by the Jersey City police, claims to be the daughter of John Hutchinson Garner, Belfast, Ireland, late Colonel of the Fortieth British Infantry, and a man of great wealth. His daughter made an unacceptable match some years ago with Wm. Francis Hull, then cashier of the Ulster Bank, Belfast, and owner of a small estate. The husband became dissipated, and, having spent all, came to this country, sent his three children to Ward's Island, and disappeared. His wife, whose musical education is excellent, could find no better situation than the one afforded, of whose nature she was ignorant. Justice Lambert, before whom she was taken, has written to Colonel Garner and to Mrs. Hull's brother-in-law, Mr. Robert Herron, of Perle House, Killybeg, and their replies are anxiously awaited.

Dr. Trall, of Philadelphia, is the coming prophet. We are to have a period of pestilence, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune are all approaching the earth. In their train come plague, famine, intensely hot and bitterly cold weather. It is not very consoling to nervous people here to turn to Griffith's Annals of Maryland. According to this very faithful, but very confused authority, in 1789 and 1790, "There raged throughout the county an epidemic called the influenza. It was remarked that the summer of the former year had been uncommonly warm"—think of the hundred in the shade of 1872—"with great drought; and that, like the yellow fever which followed, the influenza" was contagious in the atmosphere, but not by personal communication." It was said to be produced by a sudden vegetable putrefaction.

Indiana is agitated by reason of rumors implicating members of its Supreme Court in the reception of bribes from a railroad company, intended to influence their action in a case in which the company was interested. The court has ordered an investigation.

Frederic W. Cooper, a distributing clerk of the Boston postoffice, has been arrested, on the charge of rifling and destroying money letters. He acknowledges having taken $815, though it is believed his stealings will amount to much more.

We will Establish other Agencies at Different Localities the Coming Season.

THIS COTTON FERTILIZER has received the highest praise from all sections of country, and the daily press throughout the State. We give below a few extracts from the papers of the States in which it is used, showing the results of its use in various localities of the country to the daily newspapers—reporting the voluntary, constant commendation of the cotton planters relative to the action of the Cotton Fertilizer, and the high praise in which it is held by the planters, as the best of public interest and benefit—writing from the spot and giving the free, ebullient laudations of the wisdom of the planter in its use, and the effects, many of whom are the men, and most successful farmers in North Carolina and Virginia. These extracts are the disinterested reports of newspaper correspondents in their communications to the press, and are given to note and relate matters of general news and interest of public importance and concern.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

Extract from correspondence of the Deltabore Advance, (Nash county) in its issue of 23d of August last:

"...Of the commercial measures used, through our section, it is the opinion of those who have applied it that Gilham's Cotton Fertilizer, manufactured by the Southern Fertilizing Company, Richmond, Va., is decidedly the best in the market."

From the Raleigh Sentinel, of Aug. 14th, we make the following extract:

"...In conclusion allow me to speak of the favorable impression among our excellent farmers created by Gilham's Cotton Fertilizer. No section of the State can produce such cotton farmers as Edgecombe county, and many of them are using Gilham's Fertilizer, and some of them say superior to Peruvian. This is saying much for it, but it will be guided by its many crops around here, which show its excellencies, we have not accorded it too high praise. Nothing is so good as a good fertilizer, and we inform our readers of the effects of this fertilizer, and the high opinion of it by the cotton planters in this section for the benefit of the farming interest throughout the State."

From a correspondent of the Tarboro Enquirer, written from Battleground, N. C., we make this extract from an article in that paper of the 31st August ult.:

"...Gilham's Cotton Fertilizer is recognized by some of the best planters here to be the best manure used in this section."

From a correspondent from Margaretville to the Raleigh News, August 27th, we note this paragraph:

"Most of the farmers who have used Gilham's Cotton Fertilizer say it is better, for many reasons, than Peruvian Guano. We were struck by the high praise in which this fertilizer is held by those who have used, and are now using it, and the good opinion entertained by the cotton planters who have witnessed its effect under cotton. It is unquestionably very marked."

From a communication from Whitakers to the Biblical Recorder we make the following quotation:

"On asking the farmer's opinion as to the manure, all who have used it pronounce the Gilham's Cotton Fertilizer the best, saying it stands dry weather better than the Peruvian, is equal to it in every respect, surpassing it in some, with due accord express their intention of using it again. This is saying a good deal for the Gilham's, inasmuch as Peruvian costs much more, and has stood so long without a rival, but 'facts are stubborn things.'"

SELECTED POETRY

We publish by request the following verses, which are much admired in literary circles. There is a weird charm about them which will make them extremely popular with those who delight to dwell on poetic images, evoked by the hand of creative genius from sepulchral scenes and revelations.

THE MIDNIGHT REVIEW.

At midnight from his grave,
The drummer wakes and rose,
And beating loud his drum,
Forth on his rounds he goes.

Stirred by his fleshless arms,
The drumsticks pally fall;
He beats the loud retreat,
Reveille and roll-call.

So strangely rolls that drum,
So deep its echoes sound,
Old soldiers in their graves
To life start at a bound.

Both they in farthest North
Stiff in the ice who lay,
And they, who warm repose
Beneath Italian clay.

Below the mud of Nile,
Beneath Arabian sand,
Their burial place they quit,
And soon to arms they stand.

And at midnight from his grave,
The trumpet sounds a note,
And mounted on his horse
A loud shrill blast he blows.

On airy couriers then
The cavalry are seen,
Old squadrons erst renowned,
Galloped and galloped on.

Beneath their casques their blanched
Skulls
Smile grim, and proud their air,
As in their bony hands
Their long sharp swords they bear.

And at midnight from his tomb
The chief awakes and rose,
And followed by the troops
With slow steps on he goes.

A little halloo wears,
A coat quite plain has he,
At his left side hangs free,
O'er the vast plain the moon

A pale lustre sheds,
The man with the little hat
The troops goes to review.

The ranks present their arms,
Deep roll the drums the while,
Revering, then, the troops
Before the chief demile

Captains and Generals round
In circles form appear,
The chief to the first word,
Then whispers in his ear.

The word goes round the ranks,
Reverence along the line,
That word they give is "France!"
The answer—"St. Helene!"

"Tis thus at midnight hour
The grand review they say,
Is by day cases held
In the Champs Elysees.
